DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892 or PTO-1449, they have not been considered.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 11-13, 15, 17-20, 22-26, 29-37 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3763

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 1-10, 14, 16, 21, and 27-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Muni et al. (5,533,968) or Muni (5,853,408). Both Muni and Muni et al. teach rapid exchange balloon catheters comprising a balloon and a plurality of tubular members wherein the balloon catheter has a first tubular member with the balloon fused concentrically in the vicinity of the distal end wherein the securing is done by thermally fusing the balloon and material miscible with the first tubular member and is made multi-layer through heat bonding or adhesive bonding (abstract, body). Collectively, Muni et al. lists a number of materials and references incorporated by reference wherein the shore hardness, flexural modulus, and therefore melting point is greater for the balloon than the tubular member wherein the balloon is made from a polyimide elastomer and the outermost surface of the tubular member is made of a polyamide elastomer both being polyester elastomer materials. In the alternative, if Applicant disagrees with the inherent and explicit teachings above it is the Examiner's position that several of the materials are present and disclosed for use in the manufacture of the balloon catheters of Muni and Muni et al. and therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time of invention to have substituted any of the materials for the tubular portion or balloon portion as disclosed by Muni and Muni et al. since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.
